

NAT GREENE FLY FISHERS

Presents

Greg Ward

Born in Alabama, but raised in Gatlinburg, Tennessee, the heart of the Great Smoky Mountains. He has fished the lakes, streams and rivers of East Tennessee and beyond since he was old enough to pick up a rod and reel. Turning his love of everything outdoors into a career, Greg has been a full-time hunting and fishing guide since 1989. He owns and operates Rocky Top Outfitters, a fishing guide service specializing in stream fly-fishing. Greg's hunting and fishing articles and anecdotes have appeared in numerous newspapers and outdoor magazines. He was a contributor to H. Lea Lawrence's book, The Fly Fisherman's Guide to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and is co-author of The Ultimate Fly-fishing Guide to the Great Smoky Mountains. Greg has hosted several radio shows and has been a popular presenter at Pigeon Forge's annual Wilderness Wildlife Week, where he shares his passion for fishing in the Smokies with visitors from all over the country. Greg has taught fly- and spin- fishing classes in conjunction with the University of Tennessee and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park Field School. Ward's no-nonsense approach to fly-fishing focuses on essential information for both the novice and experienced fisherman:
