

November 2012 Newsletter

November 13, Paul Phillips, 7pm, Leonard Recreation Center - Paul will tell us about ultra light fly fishing principles based on light line weights such as 3 or less. He has spent a great deal of time on the Holston River and other difficult waters. Paul will share fly patterns, leaders, approaches, presenting, wading, rod choice, line choice, what to look for, and specialized techniques that he uses for tough fish that can be very selective. All are welcome.

Please note that the bridge on Ballinger Rd. is still under construction, so access is by way of N. Chimney Rock Rd.

March 2013 Banquet

Well Folks, our 2013 banquet and seminar will be Saturday, March 2nd at the New Garden Moose Family Center in Greensboro. Our speaker is George Daniel and he has several shingles he can hang under his name. George is a two time US National Fly Fishing Champion, he is the head coach for the NC Competition Fly Fishing Team <http://ncflyfishingteam.com/>, he is the author of the best selling book “Dynamic Nymphing”, and he has been published in Fly Fisherman and Fly Tying magazines.

If you are like me, you do not fully understand what competition fly fishing is. I have read different articles and learned enough to respect it, and realize that it requires the fisherman to quickly adapt to any conditions in order to succeed. Friday I discovered the below article which fully explains it. Please follow this link to an article by Bill Steudler for a very interesting and thorough explanation. <http://troutlegend.com/category/event-organizer-insider/>
